"To plant a garden is to believe in tommorow'
Audrey Hepburn
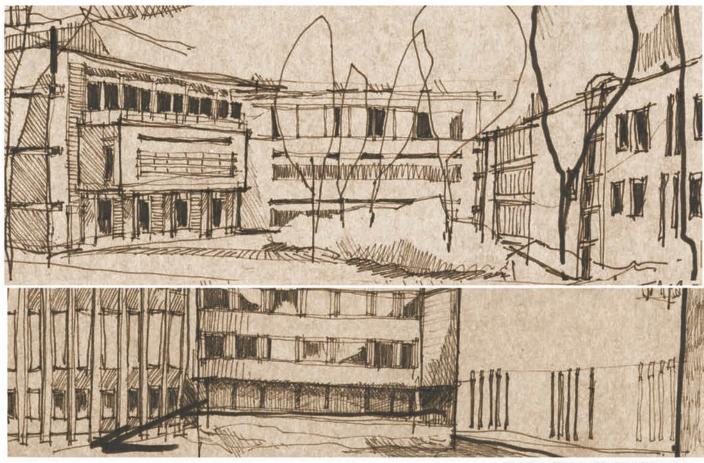

St Peter's House
Church and Chaplaincy

Transgression in Peaces

Reviving forgotten spaces within the city, bringing them to the forefront of our conscience.

The Peace Garden at St. Peter's Chaplaincy

Brief

We aim to challenge the conventional attitudes towards designing for peace, thus creating an inclusive spiritual place for people from all walks of life.

Week 1: Analysing the space through several mediums within architectural theory.

Week 2: Design of an installation to showcase the design proposals, with a view to attracting interest from diverse collaborative bodies associated with the Chaplaincy, and possibly implementing the finished design.

Collaborators
Jayne Prestwood, Representative from Chaplaincy
Eddie Fox, Head of Landscape Architecture at MMU
Landscape Students at MMU

Skills involved
Sketching, Photography, technical and critical analysis, collaborative exercises.

Readings of note
Vacancy Studies, 2014 Ronald and Eric Rietveld
Thinking Architecture: Peter Zumthor

Oxford Road